

The Investigator

www.iamillbe.stat.gouv.qc.ca

A new round of data collection in 2015!

After the 2013 and 2011 rounds of data collection, you probably guessed we will have another one in 2015! As in other rounds, we will be sending you information by email or regular mail so that you can fill out our online questionnaire which will cover various aspects of your life.

- > For the time being, you only have to fill out the yellow reply card attached to this newsletter so we can be sure we have the most recent contact information for you, namely your email address (if applicable).
Thank you in advance for sending us your completed reply card by October 31, 2014!
- > You will be hearing from us in early 2015!

Did you know that...

SOS LEARN

- > Provides free online help with study and homework for English high school and elementary students in Québec?
- > Experienced, real classroom teachers are available online evenings Monday through Thursday to tutor students?
- > Success Checker, also part of the non-profit organization LEARN (Leading English Education and Resource Network – www.learnquebec.ca), provides access for students from their personalized home page to self-tests and personalized study guides for Ministry of Education exams?

SOS

- > SOS is the international Morse code distress signal (· · · – – – · · ·) that was especially used at sea and is still recognized as a visual or aural cry for help?
- > Was first adopted in Germany over a century ago, but in English some people think it means “Save Our Souls,” or “Save Our Ship.”
- > Many artists have songs with SOS in the title. Can you name one?

Québec Handy Numbers – New Edition

- > In 2013 you were one of 466,300 teenagers in Québec (15 to 19 years of age) comprising 5.7% of the population of the province.

