

The 15th data collection coming soon

The next data collection will start in February 2017. Like last time, you will be sent an e-mail to fill out the questionnaire online. If it is difficult for you to get Internet access, no problem! We will mail you the information, and you can fill out the questionnaire over the telephone.

Several things new this year!

- You will be the only one to fill out the questionnaire: You have become the only survey respondent, so we are really counting on you!
- A whole new questionnaire! Some topics are new, and most of the questions have been changed.
- Questionnaire now shorter!
- To thank you for filling out the questionnaire, we will pay you $35!

Symposium celebrating the 20th anniversary of I Am, I'll Be: a great success!

A symposium marking the 20th anniversary of the QLSCD was held on May 10 during the 84th ACFAS (Association francophone pour le savoir) convention. Eight presentations were given that afternoon by researchers and members of our team. This was followed by a discussion on the importance and usefulness of the study. All presentation summaries are available in French on the I Am, I'll Be website.

Phase 4 of the survey, for which we would like to follow you until you are 25, was also officially launched during the symposium. Next was held a ceremony highlighting the significant contribution of several key collaborators. But the most valuable collaborator in this project is you, of course! We thanked all the families who participated in the study over the years!

Special newsletter

To celebrate the 20th anniversary of I Am, I'll Be, we are sending you a special newsletter containing a few interesting statistics prepared from the data you provided in 2015, as well as the answers to questions we have been asked over the years! Happy reading!

A word from the Coordinator

Hello! I am pleased to write this message for the spruced up newsletter! Since you have become the primary respondent for the study, there are things I need to tell you in the next few issues. Did you know that it is thanks to your contribution that we have gained a better understanding of the issues facing you and other young people aged 18 and 19? You have been taking part in this study for many years, which has helped provide Statistique Québec, also known as the Institut de la statistique du Québec, and dozens of researchers with a wealth of data they use to prepare many studies and analyses every year. In other words, none of this would have been possible without you!

THANK YOU!

Nancy Illick
